

Welcome to the 7th International Conference on Planning and Design

Welcome message

ICPD 2013 cordially invites you to the National Cheng Kung University (NCKU), Tainan, Taiwan. This biennial international forum is designed for the dissemination and exchange of up-to-date research in industrial design, architecture and urban planning, and your participation and contribution is pivotal to its success.

The NCKU College of Planning and Design, newly established in August 2003, includes the Department of Architecture, Department of Industrial Design, Department of Urban Planning and the Institute of Creative Industry Design. The first three were originally under the College of Engineering and have been pioneers, professionally and academically, in their respective fields in Taiwan since they were first founded.

The College of Planning and Design has held a series of international conferences biennially since 2001, with a view to gain insight into innovative directions and trends in academic research and technological development and to share and spread our research results.

ICPD 2013 will start with Keynote Speeches and Parallel Sessions from the 20th to 23th of May at the NCKU, Tainan, followed by a cultural tour of the city on the 24th of May.

Outstanding papers from this conference recommended by the jury will be invited for submission to the following journals:

- International Journal of Design (SSCI, SCI, A&HCI, ABI) –
- ArS (Architecture Science, Architectural Institute of Taiwan) –
- Journal of Planning (NCKU Department of Urban Planning) –
