

On Sunday, December 11, 2018, the director of the Razavi Quality Institute, Dr. Zamani, visited the first house built in the Persian-Islamic type architecture with a hadith-based approach. At this visit, the Director of the Center for iiva , provided an explanation of the design process of this house, which was addressed by the CEO of Razavi Quality Institute. It is worth mentioning that this house is the first project of a series of projects in iiva center, in the form of Iranian-Islamic architecture. And according to the observations made, it is the first of its kind that has been made in the world of Shi'ism. This house was built in Mashhad. And the basics of its design are based on the hadith approach.